

BACTIONSET command

1985 GstarCAD MY /KW August 3, 2021 CAD Commands 0 2548

The BACTIONSET command is used to specify action selection set associated with an action in a dynamic block definition.

Command Access:

Command : BACTIONSET

Command Prompts:

Select action object:

Specify selection set for action object [New/Modify] <New>:

Function Description:

This command could be only used in “Block Editor”. Users could redefine associated object selection set by creating a new one or adding or removing objects from existing selection set.

Note: when the BACTIONBARMODE system variable specified to 1, the BACTIONSET command is forbidden.

Relative Glossary:

Specify selection set : Specify selection set for creating a new one or modifying it.

Select object : Specify object to be contained in action.

Remove : Specify object to be removed from selection set, this object is associated with action.

Specify first corner of stretch frame : Specify a frame for stretch boundary.

CPolygon : Specify a cross polygon frame for stretch boundary.

Specify objects to rotate only : Specify objects to rotate rather than stretch.

Online URL: <https://www.kb2.gstarcad.com.my/article.php?id=1985>