RESUME command

The RESUME command is used to continue executing the interrupted script file.

Command Access:

Command : RESUME

Function Description:

Users could stop a macro script file by pressing Esc or Backspace key. During the process of inputting of a script file, if there is something wrong, the script file will be suspended and users could use RESUME command to continue it.

Online URL: https://www.kb2.gstarcad.com.my/article.php?id=2331